

Eagle's Landing – Lake Pend O'Reille

You will often find dive classes at this site doing everything from open water certifications to deep technical diving. It's right next to a boat launch so a dive flag is an absolute necessity. The water is crystal clear. There's not a lot to see except a few large fish and items that the boaters drop.

I like to set up to the right of the boat launch and then head straight out. There's a steep drop of below the thermocline at around 40 feet. You can easily reach 130 feet at this site. Don't forget that you're at 2,000 feet elevation so a more conservative dive profile is prudent.

This is just a nice site to dive on a weekend morning and have the rest of the day for errands.
